

Infant/toddler room Newsletter

Date: Hongonoi—June

Kaiaako: Ruth

Its been an exciting month in the infant and toddler room we have been focusing on our project books and literacy. Which has meant there have been a lot of stories and songs happening, the children are really loving doing this in groups as well as by themselves. If there are any favourite books the children read at home we would love to see them!

We are also introducing short mat times through out the day. Not only do the children enjoy the stories, songs and movement it is a great way to help the older children who are transitioning to the Kindy room, where mat time is an important part of the daily routine.

We welcome Jack and Josh to our room, we are really looking forward to getting to know you during your learning adventures here with us.
